Join us in this webcast to learn the latest individual tax and HR related issues for employers with investments in Vietnam.

Businesses are expanding beyond their shores, becoming strong regional players and emulating successful global companies. Their businesses are expanding at a velocity but may not supported by their internal structures and processes, especially those relating to employee mobility. Managing workforce mobility can be incredibly complex and may result in costly pitfalls if not managed properly. Very often, the employers will face challenges in cross-border tax compliance, overseas social security arrangement and immigration application. They will also need to ensure their mobility program achieves certain strategic goals, in particular cost of compliance in host and home countries.

Vietnam is a strategic market and a favourable investment destination for many foreign companies. In this webcast, our speakers from Global Mobility Services will share tax and HR insights on the issues and solutions for international assignments to Vietnam. We will lead you through the tax and other compliance aspects in handling cross-border assignments to Vietnam.
