Introduction

Overview

- PwC's Maturity Assessment Tool for GCC framework is designed to help GCCs assess their current maturity levels and plan their transformation journey effectively.
- The tool offers a comprehensive evaluation of GCC operations across 5 key dimensions and 23 sub-dimensions, delivering actionable insights based on industry-leading practices.

Features

- The dashboard provides a dynamic visual summary of the GCC's performance, showcasing dimension-wise scores that reflect maturity (beginner to frontrunner) across key areas.
- It highlights strengths and opportunity areas, pinpointing where the GCC excels and where targeted improvements will deliver the most value.

Key benefits

Assess GCC maturity

Ascertain best practices

Identify areas of opportunity

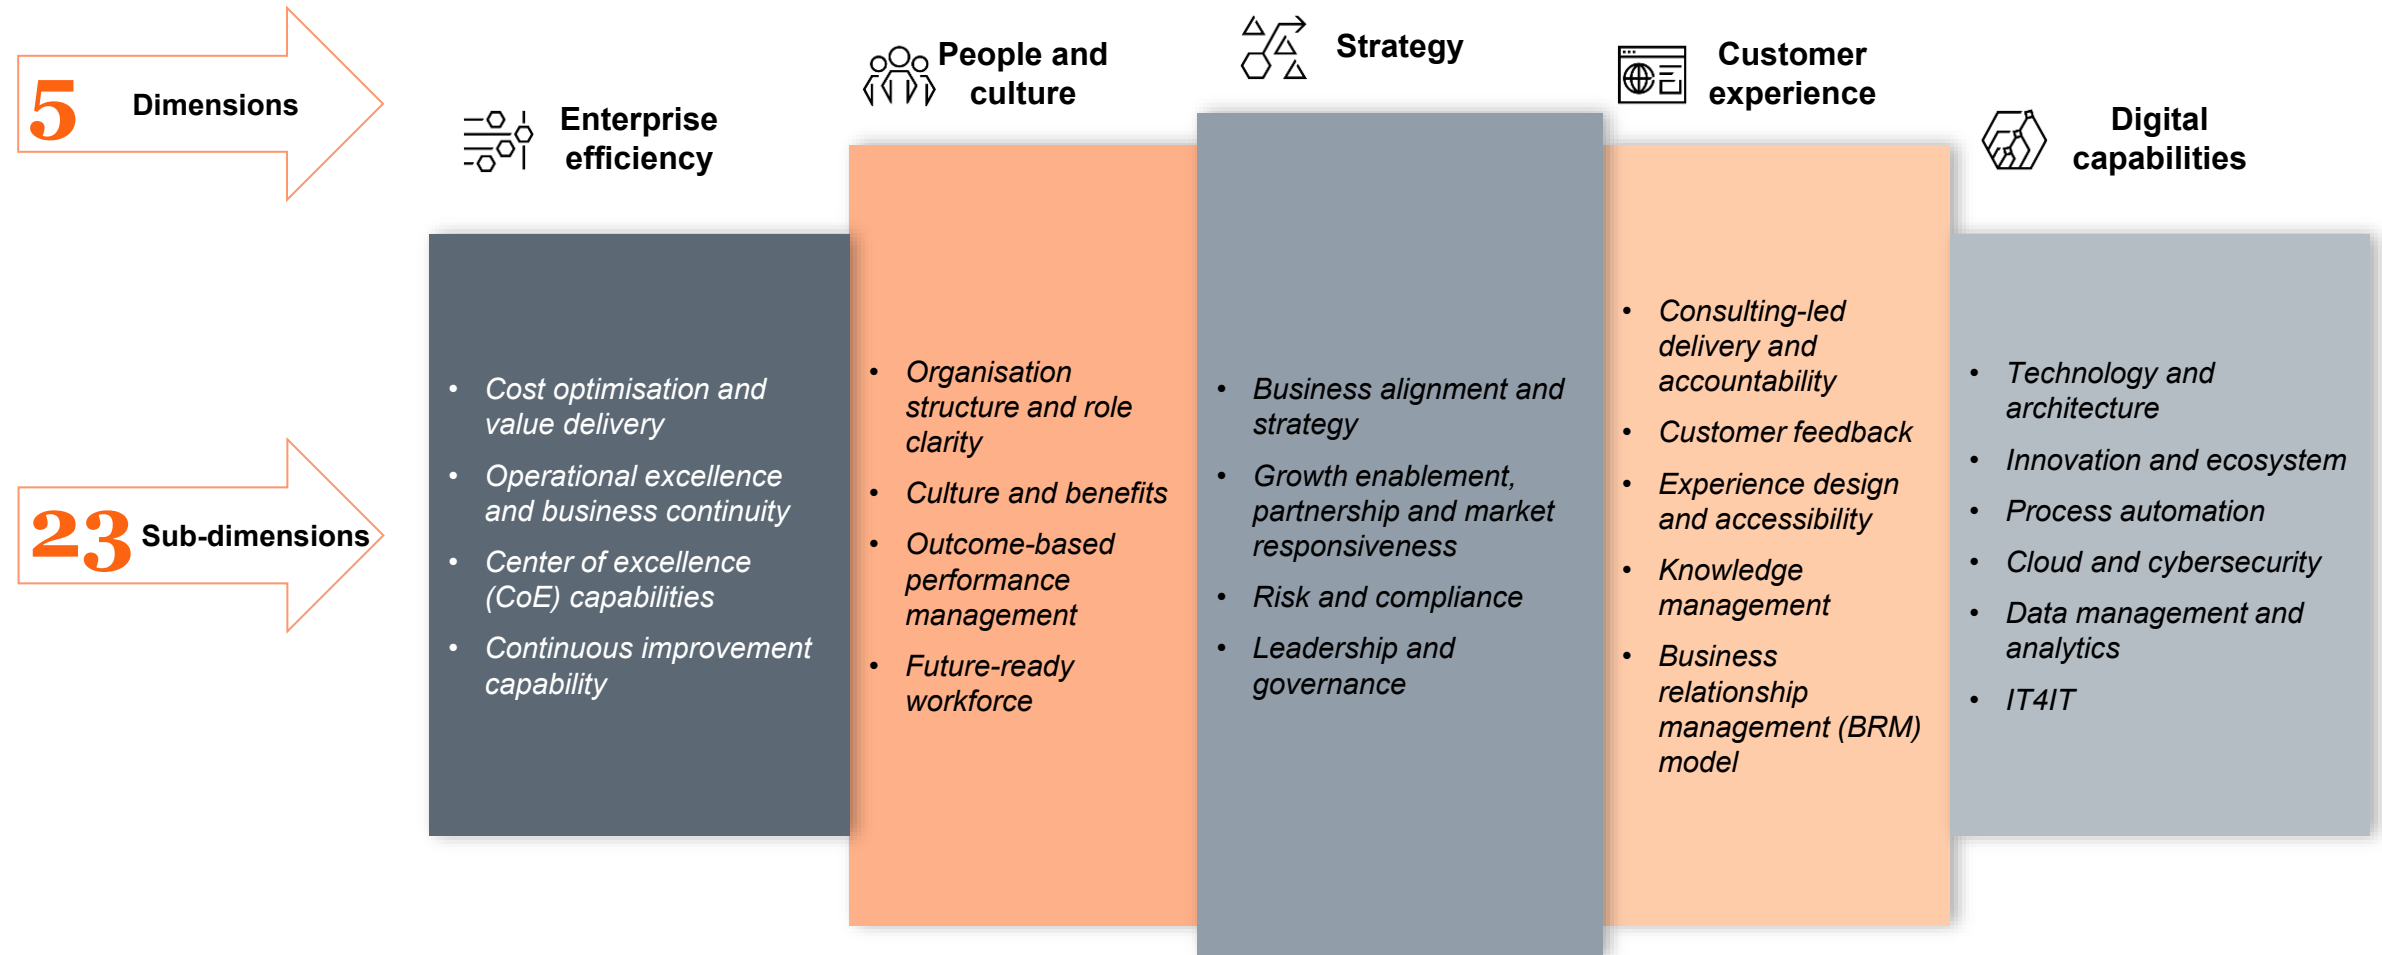

Prioritise value drivers

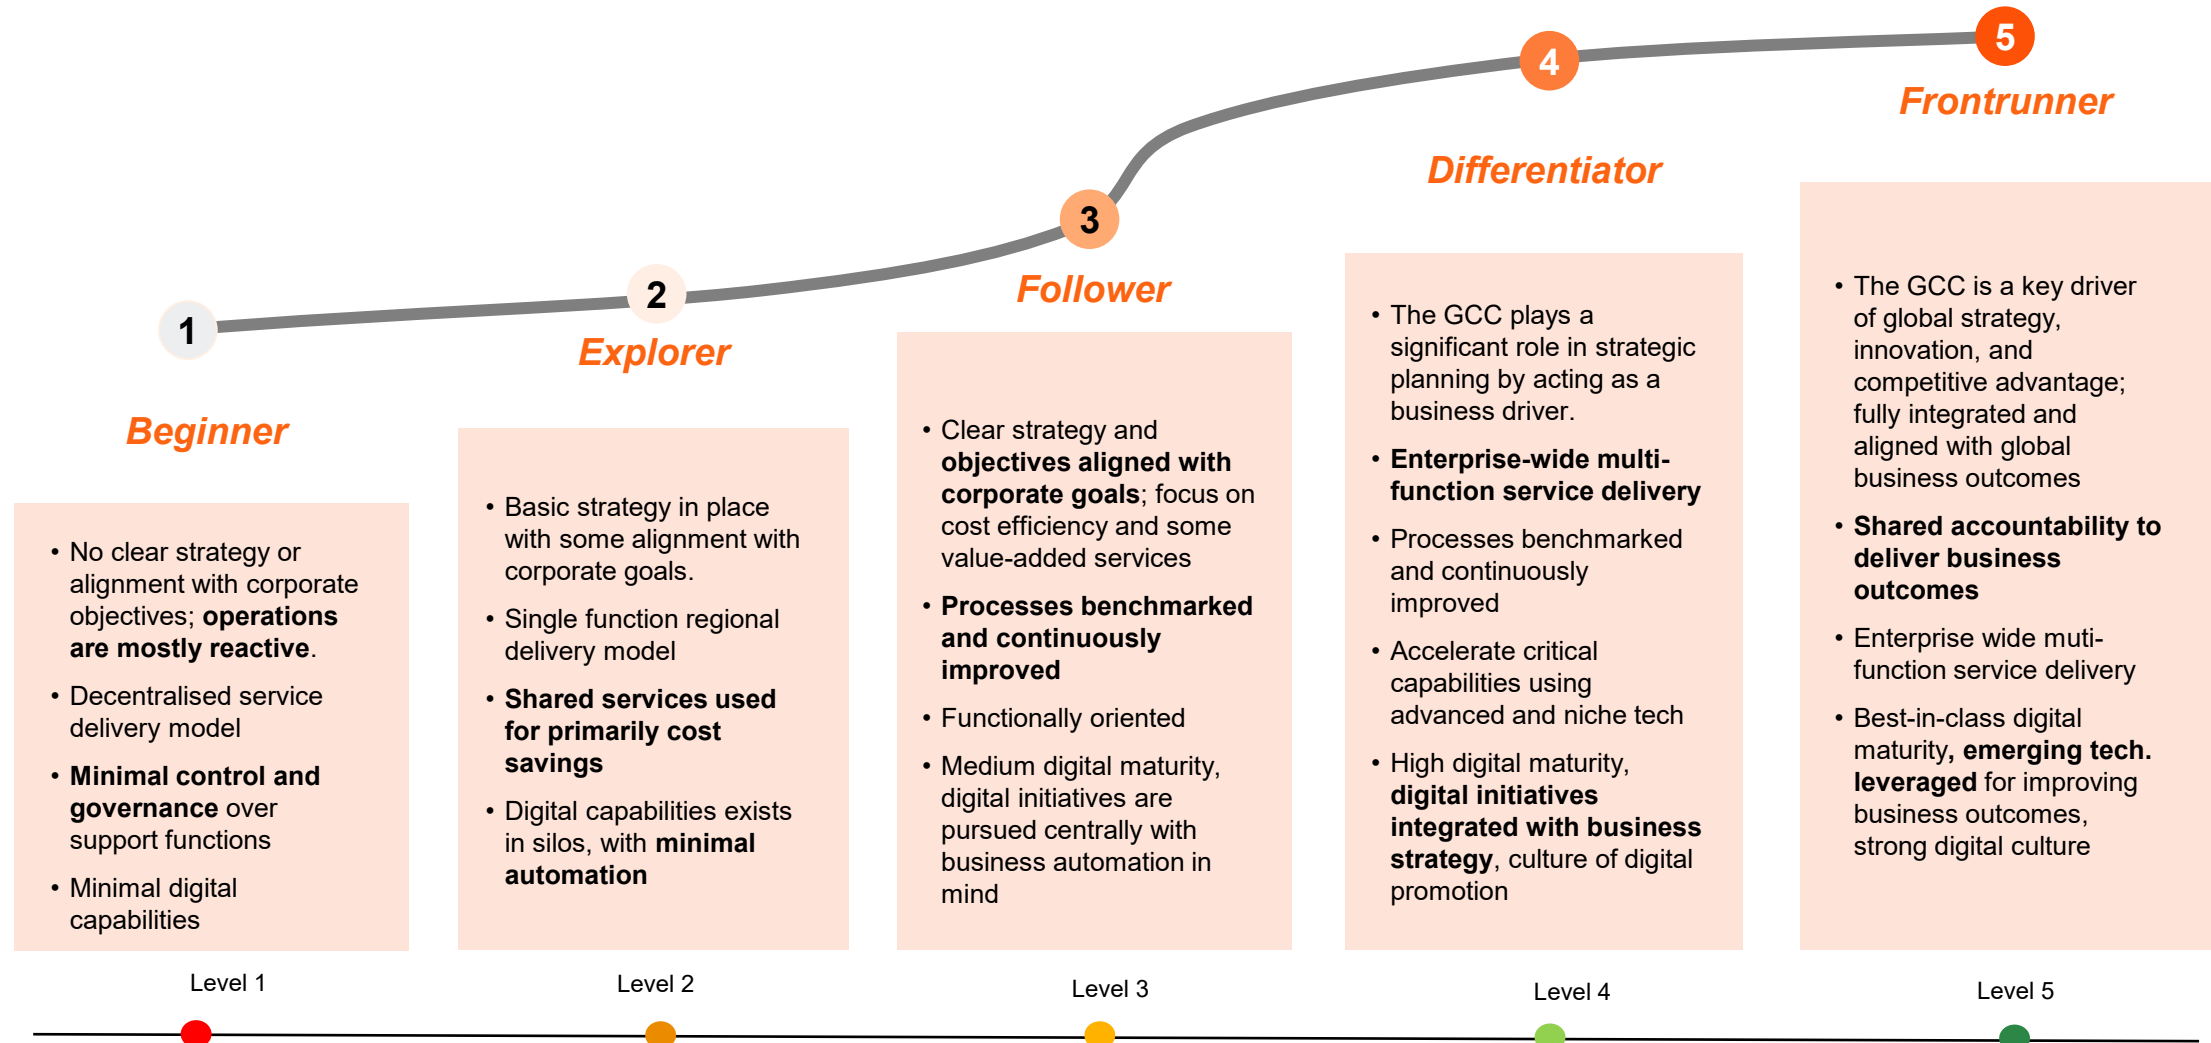

Develop a strategic roadmap for the GCC

Areas of assessment

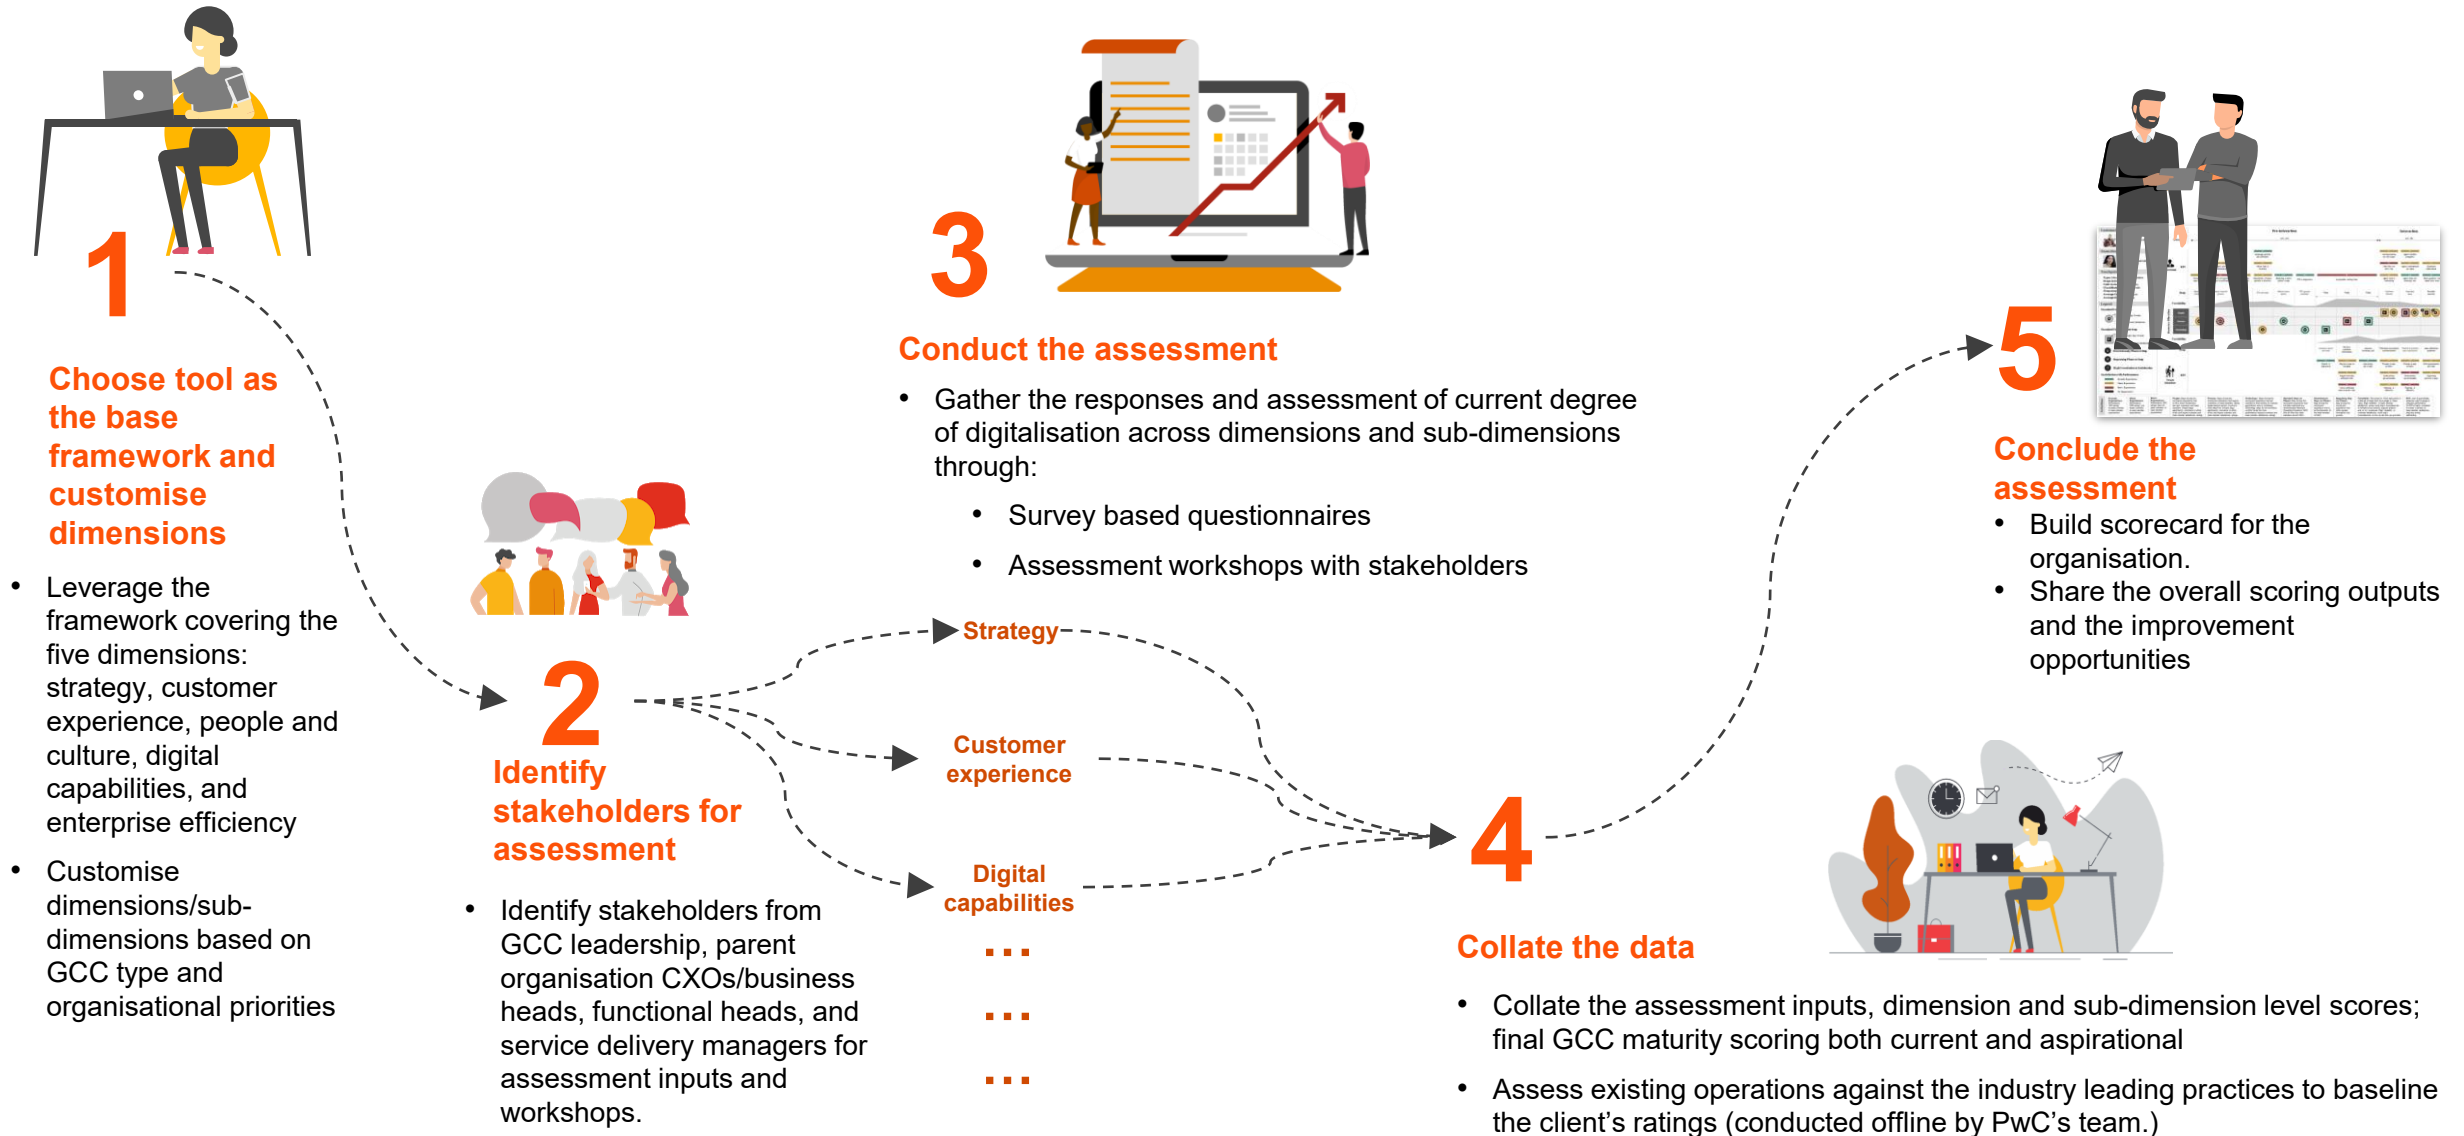

The tool assesses GCCs on five dimensions and sub-dimensions. Each of these can be customised based on the type of GCCs which is being assessed and its organisational priorities.

Based on the assessment, the organisations are mapped to a five-point maturity scale to assess their current maturity level.

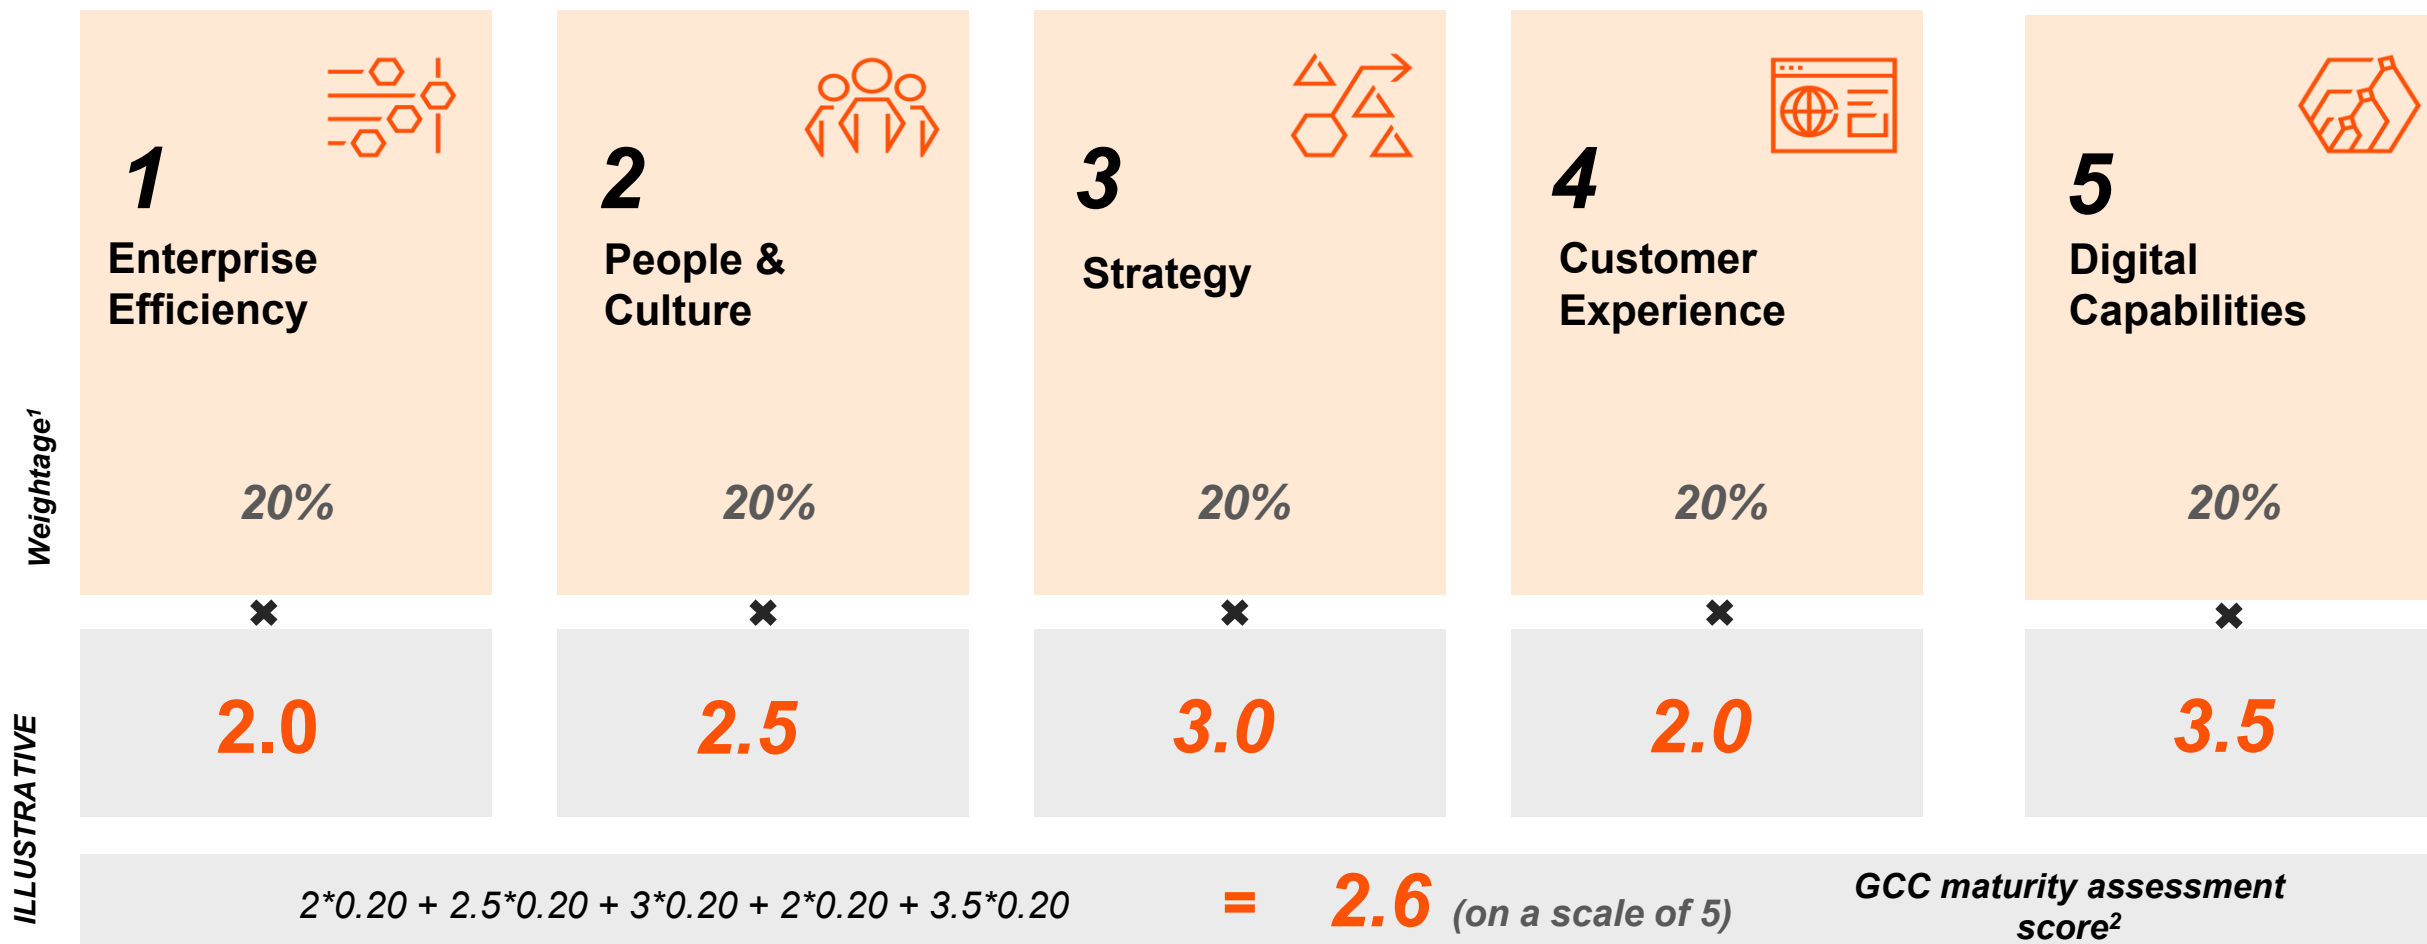

Overview of the maturity assessment process

Maturity assessment scoring mechanism

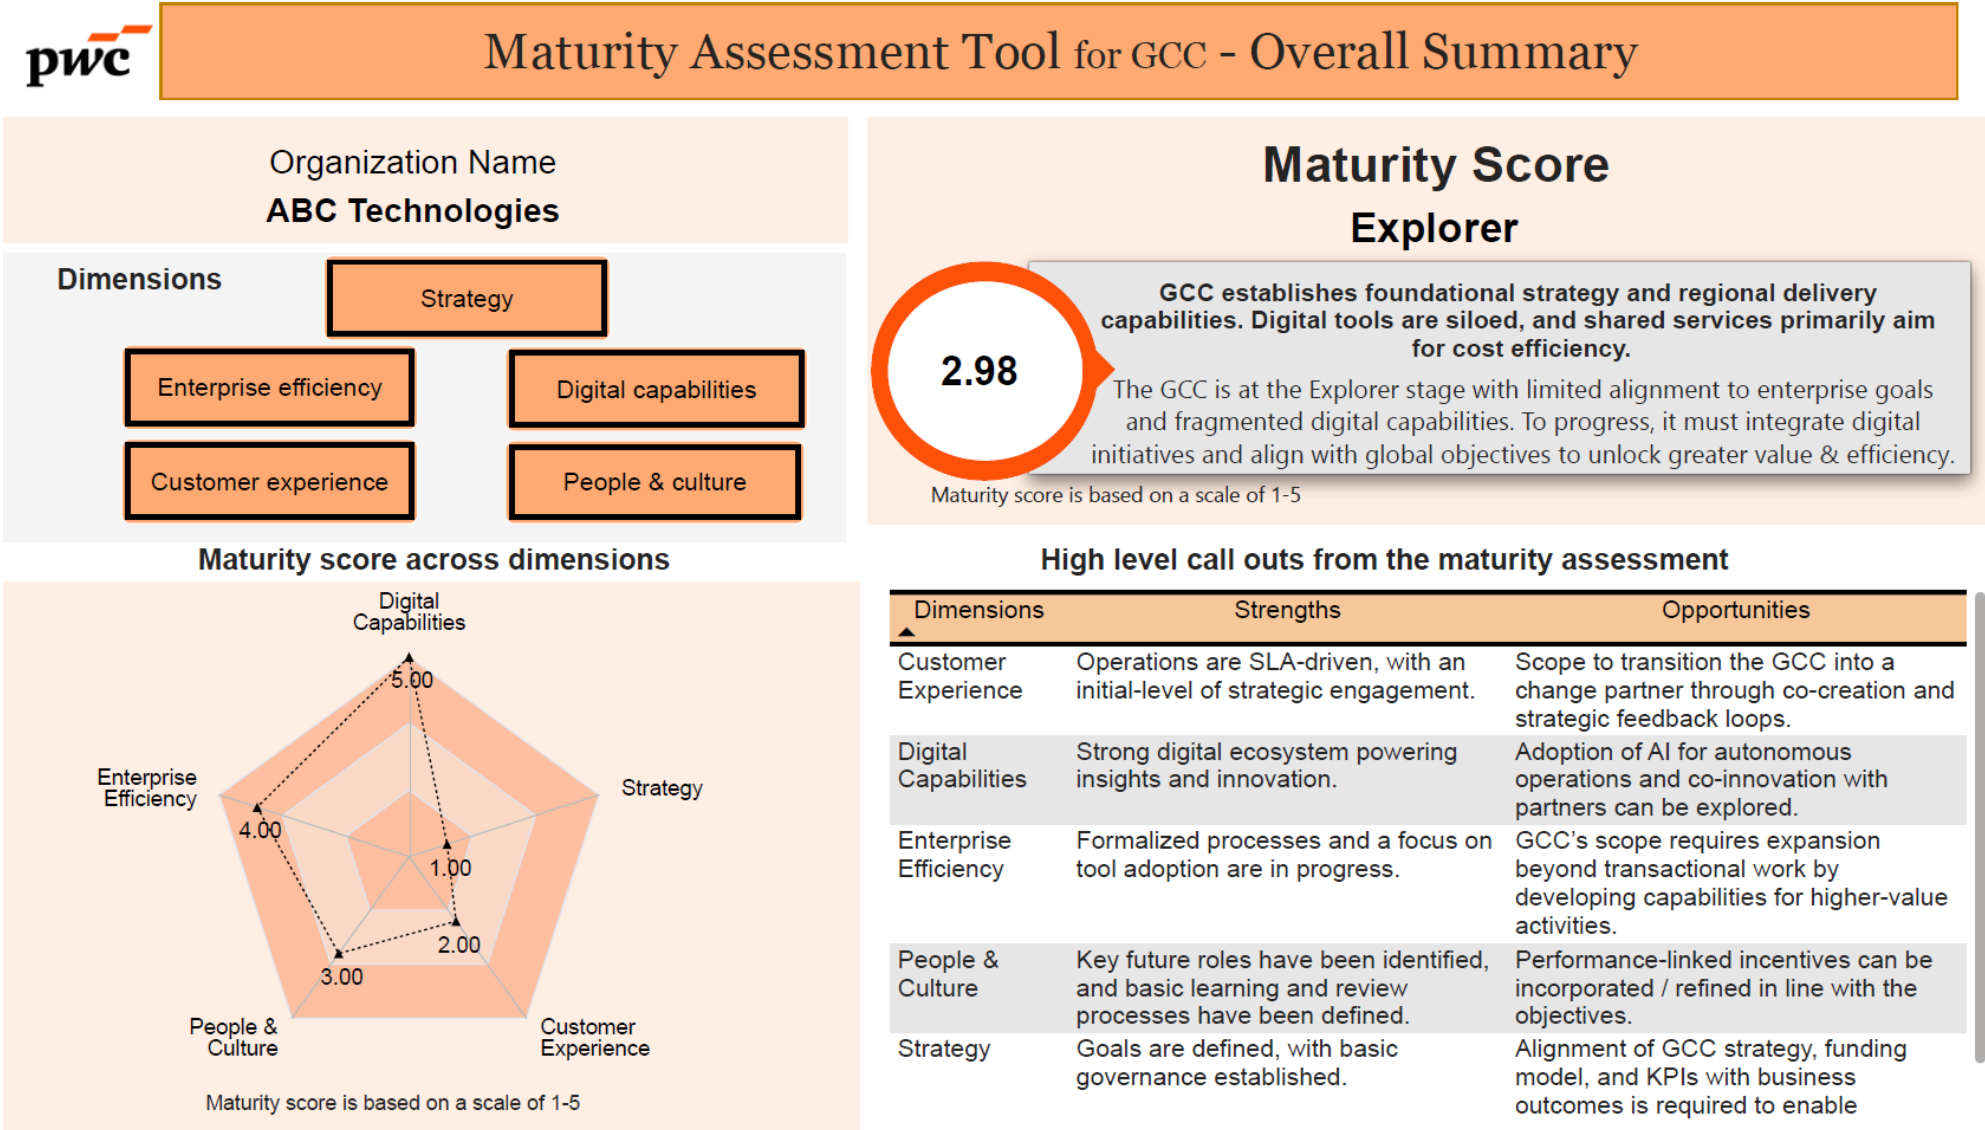

Overall Maturity score will be an aggregation of the each of the dimension scores

1. Dimension scores are calculated by averaging the scores of respective sub-dimensions. These averaged scores are then multiplied by predefined weights assigned to each dimension. The weighted scores are aggregated to compute the final maturity score. All the score are on a scale of 1-5.

2. Weightages across dimensions may differ from organization to organization based on their aspirations and strategic objectives
